Über die Messe

AIRTECH has proven itself as the perfect meeting place for manufacturers to network and conduct business with customers and suppliers. Since its inception in the year 2002, AIRTECH has been recognized as the regional manufacturing, trading and networking forum serving the markets of the Middle East and North Africa. In addition to being a prosperous Industrial exhibition signifying state of art technology AIRTECH is also a medium, which can help achieve communication intentions of participants. It holds a prime position in the minds of exhibitors and visitors; the audience is respectively large in number and is specific to the industrial sector.
